

Pollinators supported by the “Big Five” Trees (Acer, Betula, Prunus, Quercus, and Salix)

NEW ENGLAND
WILD
FLOWER
SOCIETY

- American dagger moth
- Andrena (mining bees)
 - A. andreoides
 - A. bisalicensis
 - A. erythrogaster
 - A. fenningeri
 - A. illinoensis
 - A. mariae
 - A. salictaria
 - A. sigmundi
- Banded hairstreak (Q. alba)
- Banded tussock moth
- Bees
- Big poplar sphinx
- Black-etched prominent
- Cecropia moth
- Creamy duskwing
- Four-horned sphinx
- Giant leopard moth
- Great ash sphinx
- Horace's duskywing
- Imperial moth
- Io moth
- Juvenals duskywing
- Large tolype
- Luna moth
- Mourning cloak
- Pink-striped
- Polyphemus moth
- Promethea moth
- Red-banded hairstreak
- Red-spotted purple
- Rosy maple moth
- Saddleback caterpillar moth
- Small-eyed sphinx
- Spotted apatelodes
- Striped hairstreak
- Tiger swallowtail
- Viceroy
- Virginia tiger moth
- Waved sphinx
- White-marked hairstreak
- White-marked tussock moth
- Wild cherry sphinx
- Yellow-necked caterpillar
- And many more...

Dan Jaffe
New England Wild Flower Society