- Tuscaloosa/Northport Garden Club (Alabama)
- Shaler Garden Club (Pennsylvania)
- Seasons IV Garden Club (Virginia)
- Marietta Council of Garden Clubs (Georgia)

This top award goes to

Seasons IV Garden Club (Virginia)

This small club saw that traditional turf had very little benefit to wildlife and pollinators. Through a program for their own club, and expanded to other groups in the community, they have taught how to give meadowscaping a more polished, accepted appearance. This has made an impact on individual yards as well as putting plans in the works with the community to upgrade a local park area with pollinator friendly wildflowers.

EC 4 is the award given for water conservation or clean-up activities.

The section winners for this award are:

- Seasons IV Garden Club (Virginia)
- Hunt Garden Club (Texas)

The Overall winner for this award is

Hunt Garden Club (Texas)

Working with local schools, Hunt Garden Club has introduced hydroponic gardening to students in grade 5-8. The pesticide-free indoor garden provides lettuces and herbs to the school cafeteria in year-round crops. Plans are in the works to expand to climbing vegetables such as tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers and peas.

Creating the best establishment of a venue which emphasizes native plants and wildflowers, and which is designed to expose and educate the public as to the importance of these plants to conservation and the environment is the focus for EC 5, the Native Plants and Wildflower Venue award.

In the various categories for this award, the winners are

- From Wisconsin, the Lake Wissota Garden Club
- Town & Country Gardeners of Alliance in Ohio
- Southwind Garden Club in Tennessee

The winner and recipient of the $1,000.00 prize money is

Town & Country Gardeners of Alliance, Ohio

When a local family established a memorial garden to honor their late husband and father, members of Town & Country Gardeners stepped up to provide evergreen screening, native plants, and a scattering of annuals to this peaceful pond setting.

The EC 6 Award for Organic Practices is given for the most outstanding project or educational activity emphasizing and employing the use of organic materials and methods in gardening.

First place winners are

- Branford Garden Club (Connecticut)
- Buckingham/Dillwyn Garden Club (Virginia)

The winner is

Branford Garden Club from Connecticut

Club members revised their annual plant sale to focus on natives grown with organic practices. They grew 270 species from seed, bulbs and perennial divisions from their own gardens. An additional 350 bulbs were added to the collection. The growing focus was on using a soilless mixture of compost, coco coir and vermiculite. Members took care to wash the roots of the divided plants to avoid any transmission of jumping worms and other pathogens. Signs and educational materials distributed during the sale informed the public of how to continue organic practices with their new plants.
